MESSAGE

I am glad to know that the All India Induction Furnace Association (AIIFA) is organizing its 31st National Level Conference on “Strengthening Green Steel Production: Building Pillars for New India” on 24th November 2017 in New Delhi. Our institute is proud to be an integral part of the seminar.

The conference aspires to bring together various stake holders as representatives from user industries, Institutes and Research organizations to share their experiences in their respective fields. I believe that the issue of Green Steel Production has been very appropriately selected as major focus area. Emphasis will also be given on latest sustainable technologies for efficient and quality steel production. I hope, the user industries would get enough ideas to implement good practices in their plants to be more cost effective.

I extend my best wishes to All India Induction Furnace Association (AIIFA) and its members to make the event a great success.
